Cynthia Ganote

Cynthia is an assistant professor at Saint Mary's College of California. She teaches about race, class and gender inequalities and about building inclusive communities. She moved here from Louisville, KY, last August, so she is new here in Berkeley.

Zeus Yiamouyiannis

Zeus grew up on an organic farm in central Ohio with one brother and four sisters, who are named: Apollo, Athena, Carmen, Portia and Lurleen. He has worked as an education professor as well as a youth educator in Christian Education. He is currently doing education policy and curriculum development. He enjoys discussing philosophy of religion, learning to play the Blues piano, his 4-month old son, and bungee jumping with his wife.

Kelly Hattel

Kelly grew in Southern California, Guam and Sicily. She started working in microfinance when she was in the Peace Corps in Mali, West Africa. She now works as a microfinance consultant. She loves adventure, travel, hiking (Kilimanjaro, Inca Trail), bungee jumping and, most importantly, being a mom to 4-month-old son, Phoenix, and wife to Zeus.

Kathi Mall

Kathi was born and raised in a Congregational Church in West Hartford, Connecticut. She and her husband have lived in Orinda for 35 years and raised their children in the Orinda United Church of Christ. She is now returning to the church after a 10-year hiatus to try to find a new place for the church in her life. She would like to be involved in the FCCB community for her spiritual growth and to get active in current social issues, which this church seems to consider a priority.

Ann Muir

Ann is a UCC clergywoman who has served churches in both the Northern California-Nevada and Southern California-Nevada conferences since 1985. She is choosing to make FCCB her home parish as she makes herself available for a wide range of ministry in the UCC nationwide. Her deepest pride and joy are her three children and their families, including five grandchildren.

Jocelynn Pearl

Jocelynn is from Wisconsin Rapids, WI. She is a freshman at UC Berkeley studying integrative biology. She is part of the Progressive Students of Faith organization.
